Restrictions

Minimum Stay – Minimum length of stay, this is the minimum number of nights that a reservation must be for in order to have this rate applicable. Generally this is used on the lowest rates.

Maximum Stay – Maximum length of stay, this is the maximum number nights a reservation may be for.

Arrivals - You can set a rate to be ineligable to arrive on a specific day of the week using the Closed box under the day in question.

The text field at the bottom shows the date ranges you are modifying. Be sure to click 'Save' to save your changes.

Rate Grid

In this area you can view your rates on a calendar. The screen by default will show a month at a time. You can advance the view by using the drop down menu that starts on Today's Date; then hit the Refresh button. You can change the variables by which you search by selecting modify the first date to display drop down and manually entering the number of weeks and rows and hitting Refresh.

The system will accept any value between 1 - 60 for number of weeks to display and 1-4 for number of rows to display. Please be aware page rendering time will vary depending on number of rooms in the property and number of weeks/rows selected.
